Design Statement:

This home is a true ski-in/ski-out residence. The exterior features a combination of reclaimed barn wood siding, wire-brushed cedar, and dry stack stone - a rustic yet contemporary feel. The outdoor hot tub is integrated into the landscape, while both decks take advantage of panoramic ski views. The interior design holds an abundance of great features, including a grand front porch with rope lights and quartzite flagstone flooring continuing into the entry. The kitchen features a butler's pantry, Wolf range with pop-up downdraft, and leathered granite countertops. Expansive picture windows and vaulted ceilings and hand-picked finishes and fixtures create a comfortable, clean-lined space for the homeowner's mountain retreat.
